

LOVE FOUND

I will never find the answer.

I will, however, accept the love from God,

And pass it onward.

Love Found, Odde 7.

When one is through searching for the answers to life through the finite and unwise power of the mind, and moves into the Heart, one finds inner peace, satisfaction with each day lived, and joy. In essence, one lives the answer instead of ever finding it. Loving through the Heart of God. Living in the Now. Accepting and giving love. This is the work of life. This is life. This is all there is.
